

COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1882.

Business in nearly all branches of trade has exhibited the dullness usual at this season of the year, and from which but little change may be expected during the remainder of the present month. The arrival of steamers from the Coast and the increased facilities which are provided for the export of goods, have, however, been of great service in the export trade. During the week past, the arrivals from the Coast have not been very numerous, so that the quantity of sugar received is not very large, amounting to but 1,200,000 lbs. The exports for the same time amount to 2,500,000 lbs. The demand for our staple article abroad is good, and the indications point to a still further advance in price.

ing the unsparing manner in which Dr. Rodgers has laid bare the mismanagement which he brings under review, and the forcible language in which he denounces it, it is perhaps not at all surprising that his Report was laid away in a pigeon-hole until the meeting of the Assembly adjourned its production. None the less it is unfortunate that such pusillanimous conduct was possible in a Minister of State.

The Report before us describes the condition of things which existed at the Quarantine ground when Dr. Rodgers took charge of it; the measures he took to improve the same; the extent to which his recommendations were listened to or thwarted; the history of the epidemic itself (which is illustrated by some valuable statistical tables); and the methods and results of Hospital treatment. He concludes with some remarks on the behavior and characteristics of his native patients and some "practical suggestions" which presented themselves to his mind during his study of the causes and course of the epidemic. His final words are an emphatic expression of confidence in the general public, and a declaration made composed and faithfully carried out, no future epidemic of smallpox will be possible in the Hawaiian Islands.

Professor Tyndal, in an address to the students of the London University delivered last month made the following reference to the writings of the late Ralph Waldo Emerson. The words of two men, neither of whom, in the spirit of modern science, have placed me here today. These men are the English Carlyle and the American Emerson. They told me what to do in a way that caused me to do it, and all my consequent intellectual action is to be traced to this purely moral source.

The Altoner with nearly 800 Chinamen on board arrived at San Francisco on the 15th. It was the first time that a ship had arrived from the East with so many Chinese on board. The ship was from the East, and the passengers were mostly Chinese. The ship was from the East, and the passengers were mostly Chinese.

Kamehameha Day.

Kahului Items.

Work has been commenced on the artesian well at Kahului, and the drill was down 38 feet on Wednesday last, and went through one layer of coral, and was then in sand.

The auction sale of goods confiscated on account of containing opium, the owner of which (a Chinaman) cannot be found, realized $289.75. The W. H. Dimond left for San Francisco on Wednesday last, with a full cargo and a goodly number of passengers, names of whom will be found in another column.

Kohala Items.

We hear through the members of the Legislature that visited us last week that there will be a Police Court established in Kohala. It certainly ought to be, and our present magistrate should preside with a suitable compensation for his services.

We mention yesterday a large number of strangers from other parts of the island who take advantage of the railroad to look up the beauties of our district. This brings us into more notice than before. All the things tend toward increase of values.

We were glad to meet our old friend J. Mott Smith last week who, with Father Conn and S. G. Wilder, took a turn through our busy town.

Remember that two of our most popular citizens hoped to visit us next week. They have not yet arrived, but we hope they will. They are our best wishes and we only regret that they are not here.
